MASONS HOLD FIFTY-FIFTH COMMUNICATION

Grand Master Hon. A. M. Manson Opened Proceedings This Morning

Mayor Pendray Extends Civic Welcome to Delegates

Over three hundred Free Masons, from all parts of British Columbia, are registered for the fifty-fifth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia, A.F. and A.M., which was opened with appropriate ceremonies by Grand Master Hon. A. M. Manson this morning at the Masonic Hall on Douglas Street.

Mayor Carl Pendray extended a civic welcome to his fellow Masons, his address being as follows: "It gives me great pleasure to extend to you, on behalf of my fellow citizens, a hearty welcome to the capital city of British Columbia. It is not my intention to tell you anything of the many beauty spots to be found in and around the city of Victoria other than to say the Great Architect of the Universe has been more than kind to this district. I am going to ask my brother Masons to show you as many of the beautiful scenes as time will allow."

"Victoria, like other cities, has gone through periods of prosperity and depression, we have recently gone through a long time of adversity and are now entering upon a new cycle, the period of progress and prosperity. Victoria is one of the few cities which, during the last two years, can boast of a reduction in her tax rate, and without impairing our civic services, I look forward with confidence to still greater tax reductions."

"I would like to present all our visiting brethren with a golden key to the city of Victoria, but in my endeavor to lower the taxes I regret that I find this impossible."

"Again I extend to you all a hearty welcome to our fair city, and when you look back to the visit of the pleasant memories not the least of these may be the recollections of your visit to the Capital City of British Columbia."

Following the morning session, luncheon was served at the hall of the Ancient Order of Foresters. During the afternoon session the ladies accompanying the delegates were taken for a drive to Butchart's Gardens and other points of interest.

Business will occupy sessions this evening and to-morrow morning, and to-morrow afternoon the delegates and ladies will be entertained by Stephen Ross and his North Saanich Summer residence orchestra. The feature of to-morrow evening's programme will be the visit to the Crystal Garden where an entertainment will be given at 8 o'clock, the Glee Temple Shrine Band will provide a concert at 8 o'clock and the evening will close with a dance.

OXFORD CONFIRMED AS PARTY LEADER

British Liberal Federation Unanimously Reaffirms Confidence in Him as Its Chief

Weston-Super-Mare, Eng., June 17.—The National Liberal Federation, in annual meeting here, today unanimously adopted a resolution to-day expressing unabated confidence in the Earl of Oxford and Asquith as leader of the party.

Supporters of the Earl of Oxford and of David Lloyd George, who have been in controversy over the latter's attitude toward the recent general strike in Great Britain, mingled on the platform.

During the discussion of the resolution of confidence, the supporters of Mr. Lloyd George demanded that it should be made clear the resolution cast no reflection or aspersion on the parliamentary leadership of the party.

Sir Charles Hobhouse said that so far as he knew, no innuendo was intended and no aspersion was cast on anybody.

AMENDMENTS REJECTED

At the suggestion of the executive committee, the conference refused to consider three amendments which suggested that in view of the differences which existed in the leadership of the party, it was advisable to elect a new and neutral leader. This would have required the resignations of the Earl of Oxford and Lloyd George as leader of the Liberal Party and chairman of the Liberal Members of Parliament, respectively.

These amendments were rejected by large majorities.

Much excitement prevailed when the resolution expressing confidence in the Earl of Oxford was carried.

ANTI-BRITISH EVENT STAGED IN MOSCOW

Supporters of Soviet Protest Against London Note on Funds For Strikers

Moscow, June 17.—A great crowd with bands and banners held a demonstration in Red Square here today in protest against the British note concerning the transfer of Russian funds to the British strikers. All along the route to the square the demonstrators shouted defiance to Britain and sang the revolutionary battle hymn.

REGULATIONS WAIVED

London, June 17.—The British Government waived its regulations concerning the export of money to be transmitted to the labor union organizations in Great Britain during the recent general strike.

This statement was made in the House of Commons today by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary.

He added, however, that the Government had no intention, at all events at the present time, of withdrawing recognition of the Soviet Government.

COURSE IS WATCHED

Sir William added that the British Government was carefully watching the further action of the Soviet Government and its affiliated organizations.

MOTIVES SEEN

The Government, he continued, was not blind to the motives which had inspired the action.

Sir William, replying to Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, said the British Government was satisfied the Russian Government and various communist and trade union organizations were subject to one controlling centre, and he was satisfied that the money had come by cheque from the Russian Government or by cheque from the Central Council of the Russian Trades Unions, it was one and the same thing.

FIREBOAT BOUGHT FOR TERMINAL CITY

Harbor Board to Bring Tugboat St. Catharines Out From Great Britain

Vancouver, June 17.—Final details of the purchase by the Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners of the British Admiralty tugboat St. Catharines, now in England, have been consummated, and Chairman G. H. Kirkpatrick today announced the purchase of the vessel.

Her presence on the harbor will give the port a powerful fire-fighting craft and the Harbor Board a tugboat capable of handling any deep-sea ship in berthing at Harbor Board piers. She is the same type as the tug Kysquut of the Canadian Pacific Coastwise Transfer Service and the Powell River Company's new tugboat St. Faith, now being overhauled at Yarrow, B.C.

The cost to the Harbor Board, laid down in Vancouver, fitted with fire-fighting apparatus and in first-class shape, will not exceed $54,000.

HERRIOT MAY BE PREMIER OF FRANCE

Paris, June 17.—Fifteen persons, including four trainmen and eleven passengers, were killed in the wreck of the Washington Express and the Cincinnati Limited near the Blairsville intersection, Pennsylvania Railroad officials announced today after a careful checkup of all undertaking establishments in Latrobe, Derick and Blairsville, to which places the bodies were taken.

Nine bodies were recovered from the Cleveland sleeping car of the Washington Express, train No. 50. Of the six other bodies, five were found in the club car of the Cincinnati Limited, No. 40, which was immediately behind the locomotive pulling the limited.

From the scene of the wreck, which occurred shortly before last midnight, ten injured passengers were removed to the hospital in Latrobe.

WRECK ON CURVE

The smash occurred on a slight curve two miles west of the Blairsville intersection, an important railroad centre in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. There the ground is level and the entire countryside is farming land.

As daylight dawned those at the scene were given their first view of the wreck. Four main line tracks were ripped up and twisted for about 100 feet. The two locomotives on No. 40 were reduced to a mass of twisted wreckage, while one sleeping car in which most of the victims were killed, was found to have been telescoped in its full length. Inside the sleeper another Pullman car had been pushed by the terrific impact. The two sleepers appear as though one had been constructed around the other. Another sleeping car was standing on its end, the rear section being high in the air.

STOPPED FOR REPAIRS

G. M. Saxsmith, superintendent of the passenger transportation department, said today the smashup occurred on a curve in the track.

INTERNATIONAL COAL STRIKE DISCUSSED

Suggestion Expected to Come Before Federation at Meeting in London

London, June 17.—A. J. Cook, secretary of the British Miners' Federation, announced today that the International Miners' Federation would meet in London June 23, possibly to discuss either an embargo on coal or an international strike.

The coal miners of Great Britain have been on strike since May 1.

PROPOSALS OPPOSED

The Parliamentary Labor Party yesterday voted to resist strenuously the proposals outlined by Premier Baldwin in the House of Commons regarding reorganization of the coal industry.

The miners, at a special meeting presided over by former Premier Ramsay MacDonald, voted unanimously for a resolution declaring the Government's declaration of policy on the mining crisis, regarding the beginning of July and proposed action, to be a violation of the recommendations made in the report of the royal commission.

The resolution also stated the Government's policy was inadequate to meet the problems of the industry, was a surrender to the demands of the mine owners, and was calculated to prolong and embitter the industrial struggle in the coal fields.

Mr. MacDonald had already expressed the opinion Premier Baldwin's suggestion for a partial suspension of the seven-hour day would serve to make the miners more solid in their strike.

3-CENT GAS TAX LIKELY TO STAY DESPITE ATTACK

Fuel Oil Impost Outlawed by Courts So Move is on to Test Motor Levy

There is little chance of the British Columbia three-cent tax on gasoline being dropped, Government officials said today in reply to the announcement from distribution headquarters of oil companies in Vancouver that the gasoline tax would be taken before the courts and an effort made to have it ruled out as illegal, following the action of the Court of Appeals this week in ruling that the B.C. crude oil tax was illegal.

The three-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax brought in $475,000 to the Provincial Treasury last year, compared with only $130,364 from the fuel oil tax, treasury officials explained today.

Just why it is thought at the Parliament Buildings that motorists will continue to be called on to pay the three-cent tax on every gallon of gasoline they buy, was explained by the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, in this way:

"There has always been objection to the fuel oil tax, but there has never been any particular objection to the gasoline tax. The reason for this attitude towards the gasoline tax is that all interests affected have thought it was a fair tax and it was imposed at the suggestion of the motorists themselves to provide money for the building of roads. The money collected through this tax is earmarked for road work in this Province for the benefit of the motor-using part of the population."

It is considered at the Parliament Buildings that it would be an unpopular move to seek to have the gasoline tax outlawed here, while it has been accepted by motorists all over the continent.

CANADA LOSES TOO MANY GRADUATES

Vancouver, June 17 (Canadian Press)—A most interesting report, prepared by Mrs. Ira Mackay of Montreal for the committee on immigration and colonization, was read by Mrs. Charles Thorburn Wednesday afternoon at the National Council conference and adopted by the members. The report pointed out that statistics show that the Universities of British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Queen's and Dalhousie alone have contributed a total of 1,108 trained graduates to the United States in less than ten years.

It was resolved that the National Council endorse the proposed legislation as suggested in the speech from the Throne regarding the matter of an industrial research organization and to petition the Government to subsidize the said organizations for a period of years with the view of retaining the trained technical men and women to build up our own nation.

New Offer For the E.D. and B.C. Railroad System

Peace River, June 17.—A new offer for Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia and Central Canada Railways has been received by the Alberta Government from the Canadian Pacific Railway, according to an announcement made by Premier Brownlee in a speech.

Mr. Brownlee stated the offer was contained in a letter signed by E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and was substantially better than any previous offer.

This offer is to the effect that if the $600,000 rental per year of the original offer should be reduced to $25,000 annually, the C.P.R. would assume the settlement of the Royal Bank claim of $1,300,000 covering a period of ten years; the C.P.R. would finance any extensions, which would be defrayed by the Government upon the expiration of a ten-year lease; the C.P.R. would pay operating and maintenance expenses, and maintain the prairie scale of rates or any other rates determined by the Railway Commission.

TOLL OF TRAIN WRECK ON LINE IN PENNSYLVANIA FIFTEEN DEATHS

A broken air hose could be repaired. The flagman of No. 50, he said, went to the rear to set off the flares and the block signals were set against eastbound trains.

T. W. Beecher, the flagman from the express, performed his duty, for after No. 40 tore into the express, said Beecher, Beecher's flares were found burning on the right of way.

The superintendent said W. S. Gordon of Altoona, Pa., who was killed, was the engineer on the locomotive hauling the limited.

The scene at first was one of utter confusion. Every available man and woman was pressed into service and within a short time the efforts to rescue the injured and recover the dead were under way.

The shattered locomotives of No. 40 were hauled from the torn rails and ties. Twisted sections of coaches were cut in two and within a few hours the badly telescoped sleeper from Cleveland, on the rear end of the express, was penetrated.

There the bodies of nine passengers were found.

The club car, immediately behind the two locomotives on No. 40, bore the brunt of the shock of the fast running express. In that car, five bodies were found.

Pennsylvania officials said several hours would be required to clear the tracks.

The trains are known as two crack Pennsylvania fliers. No. 40 carried a club car and sleeping cars, and left Pittsburgh at 11:20 p.m. The limited, made up of an observation car and sleepers, pulled out for Washington from the Pennsylvania Station in Pittsburgh five minutes later.

WILD SCENES

Passengers who escaped with slight hurts told of the wild scenes attending the wreck. The moans of the dying and the terrified screams of the injured pined in the debris added to the confusion. Those who were able to do so, struggled from the sleeping cars, which, while not wrecked, were thrown from the rails. Most of them were in night clothes.

The only lights available were the dim lanterns of the railroad men.

Cool heads among railroaders and passengers soon brought some semblance of order. Men were sent aloft to Blairsville to summon aid. Those who remained at the scene tried to aid the sufferers trapped in the twisted wreckage. But their strength could not combat the steel of the sleepers. The rescuers succeeded in bringing out only a few of the victims, their work being hampered by the lack of light and working equipment.

Shortly after the report of the wreck had been flashed to divisional headquarters at Pittsburgh, wreck trains were moving to the scene from this city, Altoona, Johnstown and other points, carrying doctors, nurses, and railroad officials. Automobile ambulances were ordered out and just before daylight the fore-runners of the rescuing crews reached the scene.

DAMAGE ACTION TO BE HEARD IN VERNON

H. J. R. Cullin Asking $21,709 From K. MacLaren, Alleging Injuries From Assault

Vancouver, June 17.—On the application of R. L. Maitland, counsel for the defendant, Kenneth MacLaren, an automobile dealer of Kelowna, Mr. Justice Morrison changed the venue for the trial of Cui Harold J. R. Cullin's action to recover $21,709 damages for alleged assault, from Vancouver to Vernon. The trial will be heard at the Vernon Fall assizes and may be before a jury.

The plaintiff, who is a Kelowna architect, alleges MacLaren struck him with his fist on the right temple and eye in a cafe in Kelowna on November 15 last, causing a severe hemorrhage and a stroke of paralysis.

MacLaren pleaded that the assault, if any, occurred under extreme provocation; but this plea was struck from the statement of defence by Mr. Justice Morrison on the application of the plaintiff's counsel, client Davis, who contended it was a matter in extension of damages and not an answer to the charge.

The motion for a change of venue was opposed by Cullin, whose solicitor, R. C. Weddell, offered on affidavit that MacLaren had a wide circle of friends in the Okanagan and that it was quite possible the selection of a jury there might militate seriously against a fair trial in Vernon.

When M. Briand yesterday accepted President Doumergue's invitation he hoped to form a non-partisan cabinet in an effort to solve the pressing financial and political problems now facing France.

It was on Tuesday night M. Briand, long a veteran breaker and maker of cabinets, resigned with his ninth ministry shortly after his Finance Minister, Raoul Peret, had given up his portfolio because of lack of support for his projects to save the franc.

M. Briand accepted the mission to form his tenth ministry after President Doumergue had conferred with the leaders of all the groups in the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate. Most of these leaders recommended that a National Union Cabinet be formed under the premiership of the "Man of Locarno."

While we have never recommended Pacific Milk for babies, we have a great many letters from mothers who tell us what it has done for little ones that could retain no other food. It should form a splendid diet because each can is identical in quality—and absolutely pure.

—“So, Unafraid, He Faced the Setting Sun”

AT THE HEIGHT of his achievement -- when all his difficulties seemed conquered -- when success had crowned his efforts and his activities were greatest, came the warning that he must face an operation and a possible physical breakdown.

Anxiety for his own and his family's future had naturally seized him, but here, as in numerous other instances during his life, his wide business experience had pointed out the need for guarding against such a disaster, and years ago, to protect his family and himself, he had created an adequate Life Insurance fund.

So, today, as the sun goes down, he is unafraid; he can afford to be well cared for and if his life should be forfeited, these Life Insurance funds will be drawn upon for the needs of his family.

Contrast his case with yours--and decide now to protect the future of yourself and your dependents with Life Insurance.

Local Veal

They're better men in every way,
When "Kruschen" starts the live-long day.

That "Kruschen" Feeling!

You can't keep it out!

It's not merely that you get up in the morning feeling life to be the best thing that ever happened; that you tackle breakfast with the appetite of a cowboy; that you set out for the office chirruping like a skylark; that after you've got through a full day's work you still feel as fresh as paint.

It's not merely this. "That Kruschen feeling" bobs up at odd moments while you're actually engaged on the serious work of the day — and enables you to do it better, too!

And it's so easy to acquire! No bothersome rules and regulations, no monotonous exercise, no special dieting. All you do is to tip a tiny, tasteless pinch of Kruschen Salts every morning into your breakfast cup of coffee or tea. Because Kruschen is a combination of just the vital salts that Nature ordains for the body's perfect health, it does for you what no other salts can do. Not only does it cleanse the body of all clogging waste matter; not only does it purify and refresh the blood; it also has a most remarkable tonic influence over the whole system, filling you with that unconquerable feeling of fitness, energy and cheerfulness which is known all the world over as "that Kruschen feeling."

Remember — it's the "little daily dimethyl" that does it! Buy a 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts to-day and start a new chapter in your life to-morrow.

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will fill on a 19 cent piece. It's the little daily dimethyl that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

A 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains 140 doses—nearly enough for six months—which means bounding health for less than half a cent a day. The dose prescribed for daily use for adults is "as much as will fill on a 19 cent piece." Every drugist sells Kruschen. Get a 75c bottle to-day.

Will Investigate Death of Stowaway

Santiago, Chile, June 17.—Fritz Gerler, a German, first officer of the Honduran steamer Olancho, is held in connection with the death of William Jones, an English stowaway.

Jones, with three Hondurans were locked in a small stateroom near the boiler of the steamer. They are said to have remained there for three hours shouting for release. When the door was opened Jones was dead, but the three Hondurans were alive.

Gerler is said to have had the key to the stateroom in his pocket and to have refused to make an investigation.

The British steamer Bradovon is due at Rithet's Piers to load lumber. King Brothers, local agents, announced this morning.

You buy oil to protect your good car. "Union Oil of Canada, Ltd.," makes oil to protect its good reputation.

Aristo Motor Oil

Non-Carbonizing Western

Aristo Motor Oil is all lubrication, containing neither paraffin nor asphalt. The hard, flinty abrasive "carbon" that many motorists find on valves, cylinder heads and spark plugs after a few thousand miles of use never comes from this fine Western oil.

The small amount of residue that Aristo leaves is a fine, soft, fluffy substance, most of which blows out with the exhaust.

Motors in good condition which are lubricated with Aristo, therefore, run several years without the troubles, lay-ups and expense so often due to "carbon."

A further preventative of "carbon" is the use of non-detonating Union Gasoline with Aristo Motor Oil. This combination is probably the most effective that is known.

TELLS CHAMBER OF NEW EXPORT MARKET

Commissioner Believes B.C. Could Get More Orders For Ties

On the heels of the announcements that British Columbia Douglas fir has broken down a century old tradition by breaking its way into the English market for railway ties, attention of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce is drawn in a report received from Trade Commissioner E. L. McColl of another prospective export market.

The Peruvian Corporation Limited, owning 2,100 miles of track in Peru, used from 160,000 to 200,000 ties a year he points out. They are made from Redwood imported from California. Sample ties and quotations from British Columbia companies would be welcome, he says. The sleepers must stand up against the heavy grinding of a four per cent grade and the moisture which prevails in the mountains. Besides the railway mentioned there are several others in Peru with a total trackage of about 1,000 miles. Mr. McColl believes there are openings in Lima, Peru and Buenos Ayres for British Columbia lumber.

During 1924 Argentina imported 15,000,000 square metres of Southern pine and 2,000,000 square metres of spruce. He believes much business could be diverted in favor of British Columbia spruce.

Mr. McColl has returned to Canada after five years in South America, and is now touring the Dominion. He is now in Halifax. He will reach Montreal, June 20, and remain to July 8. The second part of his itinerary will be announced later.

FIGURES OF FISHING INDUSTRY PUBLISHED

Chamber of Commerce Receives Statistics on Catches of Canadian Provinces

Statistics on the fishing industry in Nova Scotia, Quebec and British Columbia have been received in reports received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Figures for British Columbia for last year show a healthy increase over the previous year, the value for 1925 exceeding any previous year's production excepting 1918 and 1919.

The fisheries production of British Columbia in 1925 had a total value of $22,420,253, compared with $21,257,567 in 1924, says the Bureau of Statistics. These figures represent the value of the fish marketed, whether sold for consumption fresh, or canned, cured or otherwise prepared.

The salmon fishery is of chief importance, the value of its products in 1925 being $11,000,000 and the total pack of salmon in 1925 comprised 1,720,622 cases.

An improvement is noted in the Nova Scotia sea fish catch and the total value of its products in 1925 was $1,921,582, compared with $1,800,000 in 1924. The value of the fishery in 1925 was more than doubled and imports of foundation stock into the Kootenay, Okanagan, Thompson River and Fraser Valleys in 1925 were more marked.

GREAT PROGRESS

Great progress is being made in the British Columbia interior and on Vancouver Island in the domestication of the fur-bearing animals, and there is every indication that the Pacific Coast province will prove one of the most progressive territories in the broader fur-farming industry.

In certain branches of fur farming the Province has been a pioneer, and in addition to foxes the industry now embraces mink, racoon, skunk, martens, fisher, karakul, chinchilla rabbits, muskrat and beaver.

FOREIGN BUYERS COME

The effort to establish Vancouver as the centre of the Pacific Northwest fur trade is in line with the Dominion's assertion of her right to market her own fur production. For many years it was the custom to dispatch the greater portions of the annual catch of furs to London, New York, St. Louis and other fur centres, the Canadian industry having practically no control over the disposition of its own furs.

Since 1920 tri-annual fur sales have been held in Montreal, with the pelts from the United States, Russia, Siberia and China to swell the Canadian pack for disposition. Buyers have been attracted from the United States, England, France, Germany, Sweden, Russia and Japan. Winnipeg followed Montreal's lead and now

BRITISH COLUMBIA FIGHTS TO BECOME MARKET CENTRE OF NORTHWEST FUR TRADE

Plans to Follow Example of Montreal and Winnipeg in Asserting Canada's Right to Market Own Pelts; Vancouver Island Destined to Become Great Fur-farming Centre of Pacific Coast

Vancouver Island seems destined to be a great fox-farming centre and become for the Pacific Coast what Prince Edward Island is on the Atlantic. So great has been the development on Vancouver Island that Prince Edward Island breeders have established a depot here which is well stocked with foxes from the Eastern territory, a report received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce says.

British Columbia, the report continues, is now striving to make Vancouver the centre of the Pacific Northwest fur trade, an effort which should be attended with success in view of the Province's substantial raw fur catch and the marked progress it is making in the fox and fur farming industry.

The raw fur catch of British Columbia has in the last five years advanced from $1,000,000 to $1,600,000 in value yearly, but much greater significance attaches to the manner in which the fur farming industry is growing in the Province. Between 1923 and 1924 fox farms in British Columbia more than doubled and imports of foundation stock into the Kootenay, Okanagan, Thompson River and Fraser Valleys in 1925 were more marked.

GREAT PROGRESS

Great progress is being made in the British Columbia interior and on Vancouver Island in the domestication of the fur-bearing animals, and there is every indication that the Pacific Coast province will prove one of the most progressive territories in the broader fur-farming industry.

In certain branches of fur farming the Province has been a pioneer, and in addition to foxes the industry now embraces mink, racoon, skunk, martens, fisher, karakul, chinchilla rabbits, muskrat and beaver.

FOREIGN BUYERS COME

The effort to establish Vancouver as the centre of the Pacific Northwest fur trade is in line with the Dominion's assertion of her right to market her own fur production. For many years it was the custom to dispatch the greater portions of the annual catch of furs to London, New York, St. Louis and other fur centres, the Canadian industry having practically no control over the disposition of its own furs.

Since 1920 tri-annual fur sales have been held in Montreal, with the pelts from the United States, Russia, Siberia and China to swell the Canadian pack for disposition. Buyers have been attracted from the United States, England, France, Germany, Sweden, Russia and Japan. Winnipeg followed Montreal's lead and now

CITY COUNCIL TO DECIDE POLICY ON AUCTION SALE

Civic Board Meets Charles S. Austin This Afternoon in Final Conference

Adherents of Auction Plan Expect to Carry the Vote To-day

Some finality in the determination of the city land sales policy for this year is expected to be reached at an informal session of the City Council members to-day with Charles S. Austin, auctioneer, who conducted the first auction sale of city lands last year.

The meeting is timed for 4 p.m. and may be preceded by a brief council session with various aspects of the case will be discussed. Members of the council are understood to be divided on the question of the advisability of otherwise holding an auction sale of city lands. Alderman H. C. Holmes' suggestion that the downtown portions of the city's reverted lands be reserved for a system of leasing and control is gaining considerable favor.

Referring to this phase of the case to-day, Mayor J. C. Pendray said: "I was greatly impressed with the suggestion made by Alderman Holmes. The proposal has a great deal of merit and should be given serious attention."

The plan was advocated before other council members by Alderman E. S. Woodward and others, who from time to time pointed to this means of creating a reserve which would grow to be a valuable consideration as the years went on.

So far as may be learned to-day one section of the council is pulling for an unreserved auction sale of city lands. Another group favors a modified sale with a reserve on the land and the retention of all close-in parcels in city ownership. A third division of opinion is altogether opposed to any further auction sales of the reverted properties, and this group recalls the fact that the reverted lands were hypothecated to the bank as security for a $500,000 loan in other years.

It is the last-named group that is expected to put up the greatest objection to the auction plan at the session to-day. Its members advance the argument that the city is now attaining fair prices for its land and seeing a satisfactory brick movement of the property back to the tax-paying roll.

Those favoring the auction, it is said, will plead that it stimulates buying and focuses the attention of outside buyers on Victoria real estate.

In a letter to Mayor Pendray, laid before the council at the first of the week, the auctioneer, Mr. Austin, urges that he be permitted to conduct another sale here. Just what action will be taken on the final vote is impossible to forecast, but adherents of the auction plan are openly confident.

H. W. Munster presided at the monthly meeting of the S.P.C.A. on Tuesday evening. A letter was read relative to the old horse traffic from Canada to Belgium, and it was stated that this would be carefully watched by Canadian societies, and that at present only dead horse flesh was being shipped. The United States Department of Agriculture has been called to the attention of the society and its place in nature. A good deal of the board's time was devoted to discussing methods of humane killing with regard to poultry and farm stock. It was suggested that every effort should be made by societies generally, supported by the public, to effect better methods than those now in vogue. One of the questions raised is much to the fore in England and in the United States. The inspector's report included the following cases dealt with: Cats 2 (1 destroyed), horses 9, dogs 4, bull 1 and miscellaneous 5.

DIRECTORS VIEW JORDAN RIVER POWER PLANT

Chamber of Commerce Party See Great Energy Source in Operation

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday visited the $4,000,000 development of the Vancouver Island Power Company Limited at Jordan River, as the guests of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited. The twenty guests were greatly impressed with the installation, and the provision being made for increasing the supply of power for Victoria's citizens and industries.

GREAT UNDERTAKING

The magnitude of the undertaking and the cost of maintenance in the peak of condition were generally commented upon.

Expressing to Vice-President A. T. Goward and the company's officials the appreciation of the party, Vice President B. C. Nicholas of the Chamber of Commerce, speaking on behalf of President C. F. Schwenger, said: "When the people of Victoria see the great energy source that is the major factor in this great company's business, it more citizens could see what this party has shown them would raise the transportation is only a part of a very great business, which is a vital factor in the comfort of every home in the city, and the industrial and business and manufacturing progress of the community."

Vice-President Goward was assisted in conducting the Chamber of Commerce party by General Superintendent G. M. Tripp, Victoria Resident Engineer E. N. Horsey, Publicity Manager T. R. Myers, D. I. Walker, superintendent at Jordan River, and J. M. Elliott, engineer in charge.

SENSITIVE GIANTS

Leaving the Victoria offices of the B.C. Electric Company Limited at 9 o'clock, the party arrived at the Jordan River power house at 11:30 o'clock, and were shown around the installation. The automatic control of the units, which adjust themselves to load variations without attention, attracted much comment.

The 15,500 horse-power developed by the largest of the three generating sets creating a booming roar which made conversation difficult within the building, the control system was examined with interest, and the engineers on duty explained the methods of starting up and placing the turbines in operation. The capacity and skill, were kindly explained.

Luncheon at the Jordan River Club proved a memorable event, sharp appetites greeting with enthusiasm a bounteous provision of roasted chicken, trout, and other delicacies.

Returning to the motor cars a climb of 1,150 feet in two miles brought the party to the forebay reservoir, terminating the 5 1/2-mile flume from the Jordan River dam. From this basin the water takes its plunge to the turbines at the foot of the hill, one of the greatest water heads used in any of the major power developments in Canada.

ENJOYABLE TRIP

An observation train of three cars running on a light railway paralleling the flume transported the party through a magnificent scenic route to the big dam, and enabled the directors to understand some of the important engineering difficulties which had to be surmounted before Victoria was able to obtain power from this installation. A programme of reconstruction and enlargement of this flume is now in hand to continue the ordinary capacity of the flume from the Jordan River dam.

At the remarkable 128 feet high reinforced concrete impounding dam, the directors were shown the rushing torrents which supplies the 160 cubic feet per second flowing down the flume and were taken for a tour through the 850 feet of the length of the structure which is now filled to capacity.

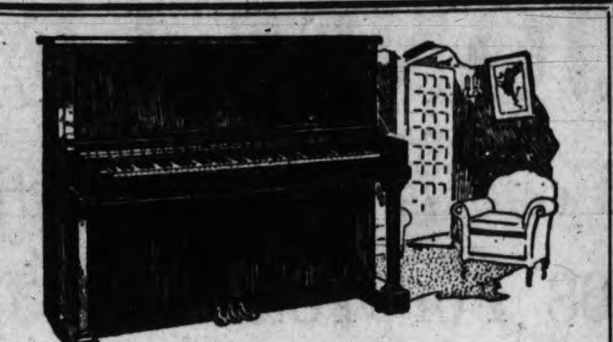

A temporary wooden crib along the crest of the spillway this year contained about three weeks supply more than the ordinary capacity of the reservoir, and during the Summer this will be replaced by permanent work which will add several feet to the storage of the valley.

A modern sawmill is now in operation at the dam, and was inspected by the party, the major product being cedar boards and timbers, to be used in reconstruction of the dam.

Afternoon tea at the administration bungalow brought the sight-seeing to a conclusion. Replying to expressions of appreciation, Vice-president Goward regretted that the location of the plant made inspection by the average citizen so difficult. He considered that if more people saw the great scope of the maintenance work in hand, and were able to see the vast capital investment, they would realize as reasonable conditions which are sometimes criticized.

THE PARTY

The party arrived back in Victoria at 7 o'clock, and included C. P. W. Schwenger, president; B. C. Nicholas, vice-president; J. W. Spencer, Capt. J. W. Troup, H. D. Goulding, Wilson, A. J. Watson, E. C. Warren, M. P. Blair, E. W. McMillen, George J. Warren, Major A. Lyons, M.P.P.; Mark Graham; H. D. Twigg, M.P.P.; J. Fletcher, J. L. Beckwith; Drake, H. A. Leigh; J. Hinchliffe, M.P.P.; John Wood.

ECONOMIST SEES PROGRESS AHEAD IN WORLD TRADE

Oscar K. Davis of New York Addresses Rotary Club

Oscar K. Davis of New York, secretary of the National Foreign Trade Council, addressed the Rotary Club luncheon today at the Empress Hotel. Introducing the guest of honor, President Edwin Tomlin presided at the luncheon. Davis outlined the volume of world trade in commodities prices for the next twenty-five years and remarked on existing high figures.

Mr. Davis said he believed the day of fighting for foreign trade was past. He said the co-operation was due to take the place of competition for markets. Referring to the successful Canadian trade session at the recent Charlton convention of the Foreign Trade Council, Mr. Davis forecasted repetition of the feature at next year's session at Detroit.

Touching upon the disproporportion shown by Canadians to exist in the trade balances between Canada and the United States, Mr. Davis thought co-operation between commercial leaders of both countries would bring good results.

"At the Charlton convention two significant facts were commented upon. First, that this year international trade will again attain the mark of 1913. That is one of the costs of the war. Let those who say war is caused and promoted by traders stop and think on this remarkable fact," he urged.

Mr. Davis pointed out, as the second striking fact produced at Charlton, that the great foreign markets of the United States are also her great competitors in world trade. He stressed as fallacy the theory that only a certain amount of trade can be created and must be competed for.

"If we are awake we see in our neighbors trading prosperity an opportunity to increase our own trade with those neighbors, because of their increased purchasing power," he pointed out.

Thanking Mr. Davis for his address, President Tomlin remarked: "Canada and the European peoples face the problem of paying their American creditors when they do not take our goods."

Carpentier Slight Favorite To Defeat Loughran To-night

French Boxer To Appear in Ring in Hope of Gaining Match With Berlenbach

Philadelphia, June 17.—Georges Carpentier, dashing French light heavyweight boxer, and one-time world champion in that division, came here last night on edge for his ten-round tussle at the municipal stadium to-night with Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia.

Georges declared that he was fit as a fiddle and that he was confident of winning, possibly by a knockout. He regards the fight as a stepping stone to a match with Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champion. Berlenbach has been guaranteed $50,000 to meet the winner of the Carpentier-Loughran fight.

Loughran topped off his preparatory work yesterday with a light workout and limbering up exercises. Loughran is twenty-three and Carpentier thirty-two. The odds were slightly in Carpentier's favor.

DELANEY FLOORS SAGE

Detroit, June 17.—Jack Delaney, Bridgport, Conn., light heavyweight contender for the crown of Paul Berlenbach, won a ten-round decision over Bob Sage, Detroit, last night. Delaney floored the Detroit fighter in the fifth and again in the seventh. Delaney weighed 167 and Sage 151.

Washington Loses Again and Are Thirteen Games Behind Leading Yankees

New York, June 17.—Cold weather, appearing without warning, has taken some of the heat out of a seething race for a National League pennant. Two clubs, the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, called off their games with Cincinnati and St. Louis, respectively, giving the world champions a chance to gain the leadership once again. The Pirates defeated the Boston Braves 6-3.

Chicago remained in the running by subduing the Phillies 4-1.

Washington, American League champions for the last two years, dropped another game at Chicago 3-2, with Walter Johnson the victim. The Senators now are a full thirteen games behind the league leading Yankees.

Smith's Goal Gives All-stars a Narrow Win Over Opponents

Wednesday Leaguers Give Team Which is to Oppose Englishmen Good Game

Smith's goal late in the first half was the margin by which the Victoria All-Stars defeated the Wednesday League representatives at the Royal Athletic Park last night. The game was held to give the All-Stars their final workout before the club's trip to England for the next Wednesday evening.

The game last night was close and fairly interesting, but only one goal was scored, and that went to the All-Stars. The Wednesday League showed to good advantage, but were erratic in their shooting or found Shrimpton too good for them.

Art Shrimpton refereed and the teams were as follows:

CECIL LEITCH—PLAYING IRONS

Beginners must never try to use a full swing when playing an iron. This is most important, as should they do so, they will be almost certain to overswing. Something between the perpendicular and horizontal will be found sufficient.

In iron play the ball is hit just before the club-head reaches the point at the bottom of the circle it describes.

This means that a full follow-through will be impossible, and that, instead, the club-head will take a divot just in front of where the ball lay. In order to achieve this result, the weight must be chiefly on the left leg, the stance must be firm, the club must be gripped very firmly with both hands, the backward swing must be well-controlled and not too full, and the body must be slightly in advance of the club-head on the downward swing.

Throughout the stroke the left arm should be as straight as possible. The whole shot is a hit rather than a sweep.

Rain Ends and Australians Go To Bat Against Yorkshire

Sheffield, Eng., June 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Australian-Yorkshire cricket match, postponed from yesterday, started to-day with the Australians at bat. At the lunch hour the score was 13 for no wickets.

It was 12.30 before a start could be made with the Australia-Yorkshire game because the wicket had not recovered from the prolonged period of wetting it had received. Collins won the toss and opened the Australians' innings with Bardsley. Robinson and Macaulay began bowling for Yorkshire. The two batsmen played with great caution, only one run being secured for four overs. Bardsley slipped on the next run and narrowly escaped being run out. The score at lunch was Collins 3, Bardsley 10.

The score at tea time stood 105 runs for five wickets for the Antipodeans.

Y.M.C.A. and Ross Bay Are Winners in Intermediate Games

Two excellent games were witnessed in the intermediate ball league last night when the four teams played their final scheduled fixtures. Y.M.C.A. and Ross Bay were the victors, the former beating out the C.P.R. 12-10 and the latter downing the 112th battalion 12-11.

The feature event of the evening was the game at Beacon Hill between the Y.M.C.A. and the C.P.R. The leadership of the second half of the schedule rested upon the result, each team having won two games.

Murray and McConnell did the twirling and both went well. The "Y" boys played great ball and well-deserved their victory.

At high school where the outcome made no difference in the league standing, the teams dished up some good work. The cadets started well and battled up five runs in the first inning. It was not until the fourth inning that the Ross Bay aggregation were able to overcome this lead. The cadets again went ahead in the beginning of the seventh inning, but a determined rally by the Bays clinched the game by a one run margin. Jones, a portlander, who commenced on the mound for the cadets, showed great promise. He has plenty of stuff on the ball but lacks control. Greenwood relieved him in the fifth. Patterson twirled steadily and went the route for Ross Bay.

INSPIRING SIGHT TO SEE ENGLISHMEN IN ACTION, SAYS ADAM

"They're simply wonderful," declared Jimmy Adam on his return this morning from Vancouver where he witnessed the game last night between the English soccer team and the Vancouver picked eleven.

"Their control of the ball, their passing and general all around play is amazing," continued Jimmy in his enthusiasm. "When the Third Lanark team visited here five years ago we thought they could handle a far more impressive side. I became so interested in the play of the visitors that I did not take much stock of the Vancouver team."

Mr. Adam brought back word that the touring players are looking forward to their visit to Victoria with keen delight. "I Kingscote, the honorary treasurer of the English Football Association, who is in charge of the team, told Jimmy that he had heard so much about Victoria before he left England and since arriving in Canada that he was delighted such a long stay had been arranged for the players here.

When informed of the round games entertainment which had been arranged for them he found no adequate words to express his thanks.

"I can assure Victorians that they will get the treat of their lives if they take in the game at the Royal Athletic Park next Wednesday night when the Victoria All-Stars play the Englishmen," stated Mr. Adam.

Four Goals Scored by Man Whose Goal Gave Bolton Wanderers the English Cup; Eight Thousand Spectators, Biggest Crowd to Watch Englishmen in Action in Canada, Delighted With Form of Visitors; To Play Nanaimo on Saturday

Vancouver, June 17.—Playing before the largest crowd they have faced on their Canadian continental tour, the English soccer team last night met and vanquished the Lower Mainland Football Association eleven by five goals to one. According to Sam Davidson, manager of the tour, there were approximately 8,000 persons in the stands and on the temporary bleachers and circus seats around the enclosure at Athletic Park.

Weather conditions were ideal. The sky was clouded over and it was not too warm. The field of play was perfect.

The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

"Lord! I forgot about your rehearsal," he said. "We'll have to fix that."
"Then you won't come up?"
"No, I've got to say goodnight. Pleasant dream!"
"Goodnight, sweetheart," she said, her eyes deep, and her voice low and yearning.

The lights in Morton's house were blazing at midnight. With a fur coat thrown over her shoulders, Audrey was walking up and down the short walk that led from the high iron gate to the door step. Every footfall that sounded in the distance brought her to sharp attention. She would watch until the pedestrian would appear. Then, her head sinking, she would resume her walk. The air was chill, and she shivered a little, as once or twice she stopped, and drew the coat closed around her. Once a taxicab drew almost to a halt before the gate, and Audrey, with a little sigh, ran lightly to the sidewalk. The driver leaned far out, looked, as if for the number of a house, and drove on. Audrey turned her back, and slowly walked indoors.

At two o'clock in the morning she was sitting in the drawing-room, looking straight before her, her hands loosely in her lap, and her face white and set.

At seven o'clock, the housemaid, entering to pull up the blinds, found the lights still blazing, and her young mistress, pale and limp, asleep on the chair. Her head had sunk upon her breast, and her arms hung down beside her.

Tenderly, the maid aroused her.

"Is he home?" Audrey gasped.

The maid showed surprise. "You mean Mr. Morton?"

"Haven't you seen him?" Audrey insisted.

With a little quick shake, as if to shed the weight of sleep from her, Audrey turned, and ran up the stairs. At Morton's door she paused. Her shoulders drooped again, and she seemed as if about to turn away. At last she rapped upon the door.

There was no answer.

She rapped again, more loudly. Then she turned the knob, and it yielded. She walked inside.

The door opened into Morton's dressing-room. His bed-chamber was behind. She sped through the outer apartment, and into the sleeping-room. The wide bed was undisturbed.

With a choked cry, the girl sank upon her knees, and laying her arms upon the coverlet, buried her head in her hands. The housemaid, who had followed her wondering, stooped over to lift her up.

"He's all right, Miss Morton," she said, soothingly. "I suppose he's been called out of town."

Audrey looked up at her, with wet, anguished eyes.

"I know what's wrong! I know what's wrong!" she cried.

Her hands shaking, she brushed back her hair.

"My—my man! She's got him!" she sobbed.

CHAPTER XIV

Morton returned home, shortly after eight o'clock. Audrey was sitting on a stool in the hallway, her head leaning against the wall, and her hands clasped in her lap.

He took quick note of the tired circles about her eyes, and of her bloodless face, but he made no comment.

"Hello, dear," he said, stooping over and kissing her.

She looked up at him, her eyes wide and lustreless, and made an attempt to speak. Her throat refused to function, and she emitted only a little questioning sound.

Morton talked on rapidly.

"Got shaved by a barber, who squirted violet water on me," he said, handing his coat and stick to the maid. "I think he must have put some stickum on my hair, too."

Walking up and down, he rubbed his hands together briskly. "Just about enough time to get a bath, change my linen, and go back downtown."

The girl had continued to stare at him, her face drawn. At last she managed to speak.

"Nona," she said, hardly above a whisper.

Morton winced as he caught the agony in her voice, but he kept his tone cheerful and impersonal.

"I suppose Nona will be wondering what has become of us," he said.

"We'd better be getting downtown as soon as we can."

She slowly arose to her feet, and moved toward him. Her step was that of one who has been very ill. She placed her hands on his shoulders, and looked questioningly into his eyes. There was something seemed to fix there, almost against his will. He made a little gesture as if to take the girl in his arms. Then his hands dropped again.

"You're trying to fool me!" she said, standing motionless.

"Fool you?" he inquired. His voice was artificially alert. Like his smile, its brightness was unreal.

"You've never tried to fool me before," she went on. "Did you—were you—oh, daddy, daddy, daddy!"

Her voice trailed off, and she sank fainting to the floor.

It was a different Morton who stooped, picked her up, and ran with her to the kitchen. To the housemaid who ran after him, panic-stricken, he gave abrupt orders:

"Turn on the ice-water faucet. Fill that glass. When the water comes cold enough throw a glassful in her face."

Audrey's dress was open at the throat, but he pulled it wider.

"Damn!" he swore, half aloud.

"Oh, you meanly brute! What in God's name have I done! Oh, child! Child! Child!"

He was rubbing her hands and wrists, and from time to time wiping her eyes, tenderly, where the water that he had thrown remained in the girl's eyes.

When Audrey began to stir, he settled himself on the floor, and drew her head protectively into his lap, with his arm wrapped around the fair curls.

"I've got to go on with the thing, I've got to," he groaned. "But God forgive me! Forgive me, dearest little child."

Audrey had refused to go to bed, had been crinkled from use the day before, and there was a little streak of soil upon his collar.

Audrey ate a few mouthfuls of breakfast, half-heartedly. Morton himself scarcely was able to eat. He kept his eyes fixed anxiously upon the girl, and his spirits rose as she moved more vigorously and certainly. He was very tender with her as he took her arm, when they left the house, and helped her down the steps, and out to the waiting automobile. He held her hand and patted it absently, from time to time, as they rode to his office.

"I'll be in here only a few moments," he said. "Do you want to wait?"

Audrey responded, almost without interest: "Is Nona up there?"

He quickly shook his head.

"I'll wait down here in the car," she told him.

He hurried inside, up the elevator, and into his office. Without taking off his coat and hat, he called Nona's name, and asked for her room. She answered sleepily.

"I'm coming over there with Audrey," he said. "Nona, the poor child is ghastly tired, and in deep trouble."

"I'm sorry, Harry," said Nona. "Truly, I'm dreadfully sorry. Is there anything I can do?"

"Nothing now," Morton told her. "except I want you to be kind to her."

When Morton and Audrey arrived at Nona's room, she was dressed, but her heavy eyes proclaimed that she had not yet shaken off her drowsiness. Audrey sank into a chair in the corner, and looked out the window, after Nona had greeted her.

Morton touched Nona on the arm. As she turned, he fixed his eyes upon her as if to convey an unspoken message.

"Audrey and I have to go back to Seattle to-night," he said, slowly.

Audrey gave a little start. Nona nodded her head.

"I'm glad," she said. "You know, I'm afraid I'll lose my job in the show if I stay away too long. Can I go back to-night, too? Is it all right?"

Audrey spoke. "We'll go back together, you and I—and" she turned her eyes toward Morton—"and our sweetheart!"

She crumpled in her seat, and buried her face in her hands.

Nona was on her knees beside the girl in an instant. "Does it hurt you, too?" she cried. "Don't cry, little girl. I've cried too; it doesn't do any good."

IMPORTANT.—In preparing feeding mixtures it is imperative that all utensils, bottles, nipples, etc., should be sterilized in boiling water before using. Use a dry spoon in removing contents from the can, and in measuring be careful to pour from can to spoon, allowing the milk in the spoon to level itself. Repeat this procedure with every spoonful measured, using the same spoon every time. This will insure accurate measurement and produce the best results.

DIET FOR CHILD DURING THE SECOND YEAR

Usually after the twelfth month, the mother should select a diet schedule. Every new article of food should be carefully prepared, and given at first in very small quantities. All meals are to be given regularly, with nothing between meals. With many children this expansion of the diet list is attended with considerable difficulty. They are thoroughly satisfied with milk, and refuse all other form of nourishment. In such cases, withhold the milk until the more solid articles of food have been eaten. If both are given at the same time, the child will prefer the milk and when he has finished drinking it he will refuse the solid food. The following diet schedule will permit the mother to select a suitable meal from the foods listed. It is never advisable to make a change in diet during very hot weather.

NOTE: One teaspoonful of EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK added to one ounce of boiled water results in a mixture equivalent in nutritive value to whole milk. Whenever the word milk appears in the following diet, EAGLE BRAND should be diluted accordingly.

12th TO 15th MONTH—FIVE MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Oatmeal, barley, or wheat jelly, one to two tablespoonfuls in 6 or 8 ounces of milk. Stale bread and butter, or rusk and butter.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—Scraped rare beef, one to three tablespoonfuls, mixed with equal quantity of bread and moistened with beef-juice. Or a soft-boiled egg mixed with stale bread-crumbs; a piece of rusk and 6 or 8 ounces of milk.

3 P.M.—Beef, chicken, or mutton broth, with rice or stale bread broken into the broth. Six ounces of milk, if wanted. Stale bread and butter or rusk and butter. Many children at the above age will take and digest apple-sauce and prune pulp; when these are given, milk should be omitted.

6 P.M.—Two tablespoonfuls of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk; a piece of rusk. Stale bread and butter.

10 P.M.—A tablespoonful of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk.

The following suggestions have proved to be helpful when properly used with bottle feedings, and they may be used in conjunction with Eagle Brand Condensed Milk.

Always pour the milk from the can into the spoon—allowing it to level itself but not run over. You can readily understand that by dipping the spoon into the can you get more than a level spoonful, because of the milk that would adhere to the level of the spoon.

After opening, it is safe to leave the milk in the original can. This is important.

We recommend that you cover the can tightly with an inverted cup, and keep it in a cool, clean place.

ORANGE JUICE

When baby is four months old, give one teaspoonful of strained orange juice, diluted with equal quantity of boiled water, once daily before feeding time. Gradually increase the amount until you are giving the strained juice of a half of an orange undiluted, once daily before feeding time. Orange juice may be continued until child is old enough to eat other fruits as well as oranges.

OATMEAL JELLY

When baby is five months old, add one teaspoonful of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. Gradually increase the amount until you are adding three tablespoonfuls of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. To make oatmeal jelly add four ounces of oatmeal to one pint of water; boil for three hours in a double boiler, and add enough water so when cooking is completed a thin paste will be formed. This while hot is forced through a strainer to remove coarser particles. When cold a semi-mass will be formed. Oatmeal jelly may be continued until child is old enough to eat well cooked whole cereals.

CONSTIPATION

Oatmeal water very often relieves this condition. To make oatmeal water add one heaping tablespoonful of oatmeal to one pint of water, and boil for three hours in a double boiler. This will make a little more than half a pint of thick gruel to which add one pint of water that has been boiling. After straining mixture through fine strainer, you should have a little more than a pint of whitish liquid. This should be used with each feeding instead of the plain boiled water. If you find that this makes bowels too loose, dilute oatmeal water with plain boiled water.

Barley or rice water may be used instead of oatmeal water. If necessary two to three drops of plain cod liver oil may be given twice daily added to the morning and night feedings.

DIARRHEA

Give nothing but plain boiled water for twenty-four hours. Then start feeding with barley water, or rice water, to which has been added a little salt to improve the taste. If these feedings are retained, and bowel movements lessened, small amounts of very weak regular feedings may be started and gradually increased according to baby's condition. If your baby does not improve after trying the above suggestions, consult your doctor at once.

BARLEY WATER

Obtain the very best barley flour. Add one rounded tablespoonful to one pint of water. Boil for thirty minutes, strain; then add enough water to make one pint.

RICE WATER

Add one tablespoonful of rice to a pint of water. Boil three hours, adding water from time to time so that you will have one pint of rice water at the end of the three hours.

LIME WATER

It is seldom necessary to use lime water with Eagle Brand Milk but should there be undigested particles of food in the bowel movements (which seem to be otherwise normal) or should there be vomiting of large curds shortly after feeding—or colic—it would be then advisable to try lime water. Obtain freshly prepared lime water at the Druggists, of which add 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls to each feeding.

COLIC OR VOMITING

These conditions may be due to over feeding, or constipation. Reduce quantity of food and use constipation formula, or lime water formula, as given above.

PREMIER CALLS ON LIBERALS TO MAKE CONVENTION TRULY REPRESENTATIVE OF ALL B.C.

Hon. John Oliver Speaks at First of Amalgamated Ward Meetings Here and With Other Speakers Discusses Advanced Social Legislation, Such as Workmen's Compensation and Mothers' Pensions

Premier Oliver last night made his first public utterance on the question of a provincial Liberal convention. The Premier spoke at Liberal headquarters before the first of the monthly meetings of the amalgamated wards, which was held last night under Ward Two, with President E. V. McIntyre presiding.

"Speaking through this meeting to the Liberals of British Columbia, I want to say that every member of the Provincial Government is prepared to do everything in his power to make the proposed convention a success and truly representative of Liberalism throughout the Province," the Premier said.

TRULY REPRESENTATIVE

He warned, however, that to stage a provincial convention was a serious matter, partly because of the heavy expense attached to it. He also urged Liberals that they should make sure that their organizations are functioning so that they can secure throughout the Province a selection of delegates truly representative of the various parts of the Province. He declared that it was entirely a mistake, the rumor that Ministers of the Crown were not anxious for the holding of a party convention. On the contrary they were anxious, but realized the heavy expense entailed and that this expense had to be met. He explained that to deal with the matter the Provincial Liberal executive has been called to meet next month.

He said he wanted to remind all of the fact that "it is much easier to pass resolutions at conventions than to carry into effect the things for which the resolutions call."

The Premier also pointed to the interesting problem of the Conservative Party, which is facing a convention to decide the question of leadership of the party because the party leader went down to defeat last election and the present temporary leader was chosen only by the members of the House.

The meeting last night devoted most of its time to a discussion of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Taking up the discussion of the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Premier said it was in 1910 or 1911 that he became interested in the question of such an act for B.C. following the passage of such an act by the State of Washington. He found that the act, under old conditions, only $48 in Washington was collected out of every $100 by insurance companies in premiums was paid to injured workmen and then only after enormous law costs which often ate up more than what the workmen got.

The figures for B.C. were even worse, as only $40 out of every $100 reached the workmen. Ontario then started a commission under Sir William Meredith to investigate and following that the Premier recalled what he himself drafted a sample act which he had printed and circulated throughout the Province to get criticism on it and the ideas of the public. The result was that opinion was overwhelming in favor of it.

MOST EFFICIENT

"B.C. has the most efficient compensation board on the face of the earth," the Premier said, referring to the work of E. H. Winn, H. Gilmour and Parker Williams.

"Since we took office, we have not only put the act into force, but have increased the compensation from fifty-five per cent to 62½ per cent and increased the compensation to widows from $20 to $25 a month and taken off the limit as to the number of children to come under it in each family," the Premier went on.

Since the act went into force there has been paid out $3,169,000 to injured workmen, and that is one of the things that has put B.C. in the fore front in humane legislation for all Canada, he declared. He also said there was now a total pension list under the act of 2,553 persons. Over 7,000 persons at any given time are now depending in whole or in part on the compensation board.

"Thank God for the Mothers' Pensions Act as well as for the Compensation Act," the Premier went on. "In none of the provinces of Canada can you find so much beneficial legislation for the people as you find in B.C."

The Premier said that during 1925, $506,199 was paid under the Mothers' Pension Act to 1,099 mothers and 3,622 children. Since the act came into force, on July 1, 1920, and up until the end of 1925, there had been $2,983,442 paid out in pension benefits to mothers and children under the act.

ALDERMAN CLEARHUE

Alderman J. B. Clearhue dealt with the Workmen's Compensation Board. He said that no appeal from the Board's decision was allowed because of the expense involved.

STRAWBERRY HAND-OUT

As the parade of automobiles, which left the Post Office Building at 3.30 o'clock, led by the Municipal Band, passed the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Douglas Street, the occupants of each car were handed boxes of strawberries. This first sample of the fruit was a mere appetizer for what was to follow, and at the actual scene of the festival there were strawberries and cream in abundance to be had from the caterer.

The programme rendered by the Municipal Band was in every way pleasant and attractive. The numbers included delightful selections from the "Bohemian Girl" and "William Tell."

The exhibition of marching and folk dancing by children at city public schools dressed in the same costumes which featured the May 24 parade here, made the scene a colorful one during the afternoon. The Schubert Club, under the leadership of Mrs. J. O. Welsh, rendered a programme of vocal numbers, "Out of the East She Came," "Land of Mine," "Irish Lullaby" and "Homing" featured the programme.

Fruit supplied for the occasion by the Saanich and Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Associations disappeared rapidly after the opening of the festival.

The success of the festival the following members of the Chamber of Commerce committee are deemed deserving of praise:

H. J. Pendray, Frank Waring, George W. Allison and H. N. Fynn. George Allison acted as parade marshal.
